

We The People.ORG

Join with Us, Sons of Liberty!

- About Us
- Sons of Liberty Declaration of Freedom
- World Clock
- Constitution
- Declaration of Independence
- Bill of Rights
- Wisdom of Our Fathers
- Podcasts
- Comment Policy
- Legal/Copyright
- Online Store
- Past Opinion Polls
- Movies & Books

« Reverse Trickle Down Economics in Action
Second Amendment Poll on USA Today: Vote, Sons of Liberty »

First Amendment Assault Begins

Author: Mr Black
02.03.09

The posted text below came from a friend who is also trapped behind enemy lines in the Peoples Republic of California. Like me, he loves the location—and can't stand the mentality of most of the people. Mr. Red, safely ensconced in the deep South, laughed when I first made reference to Lesbian Brownshirts gearing up for attack. The blog posted below should be viewed as a warning to the rest of you who still live in America.

Well, it's coming. The piece below comes from a good blog, Marooned in Marin, as in Marin, County. The author covers a UCLA study of "conservative" talk shows. the author accurately points out that John & Ken on KFI here in LA are NOT conservatives by any stretch of the imagination. They're loons—and loud, obnoxious loons at that. They led the recall that brought the Governor to power. They are very strongly in favor of mass deportation of illegal aliens, which I support. Otherwise, their show has often been an endless tirade against Bush. These guys are simply angry and love to rant. Little surprise they play in the drive-time late afternoon, when people in LA are at their angriest.

KFI is the station that plays Limbaugh in LA, but their morning talk show host, Bill Handel, who once presented himself as a conservative when he thought that was fashionable, is in fact in favor of gay marriage and gay adoption rights, so the UCLA study is clearly flawed—what a surprise. KFI has only one other person who can possibly be considered slightly conservative: Bryan Suits, an ex-military man who discusses the war. The study described below tracked KFI, which offers a dubious selection of hosts, at best. The UCLA researchers also tracked Savage and Dobbs. yet they avoided Levin, Limbaugh, and Hannity. Hmmmmmmmm. Liberals really are morons, aren't they?

Nevertheless, the groundwork is being laid. Have no doubt in your mind that The Terror is coming, and in time they will do all they can to destroy Limbaugh, Hannity, Mark Levin, and Savage, the few major players who are calling it like it is, recognizing the threat and also pointing out that the Republicans need to be more than cowering dogs.

When listening to these shows (Limbaugh, Hannity, Savage and Levin), I've noticed a sharp uptick in the so-called "seminar callers." They always start with a compliment, like "Oh, I always listen to your show and I love your intelligence." You know it's a lie, and you know they don't listen, as many of them speak a dialect known in academic circles as Ebonics. Everyone knows the main listening audience is white males. Who do they think they're kidding? Next, they assault the talk show host and tell him to give Obama a chance because he's so wonderful. I have also heard call-ins who are clearly white males of the wimpy San Francisco variety—you know, the Castro District—and boy, those guys turn nasty immediately. I heard one openly state that Savage should be pulled off the air and silenced. Whoa, they are starting to show their nasty side. Time for real Americans to get ready. This is going to get ugly.

So, we know Georg Soros is funding regional and local organizations for Obama. I wonder, are they training people for the final assault on free speech? Training them to attack those who speak for the majority of Americans? Ah, come one, Georg Soros would NEVER fund such horribly anti-American activities.

BEGINS:

UCLA Group Begins The Obama Assault On Conservative Talk Radio

We knew this was going to happen sometime soon. Now, it looks like the Obamabots have found a back way to begin their assault on free speech.

Melanie Morgan posts this item from Brian Maloney of Radio Equalizer of UCLA activists who have begun a report they hope will influence the Obama FCC to silence dissenting voices of conservative talk radio. Establishing a new front in the left's war on free speech in America, a group of fringe separatists associated with the University of California, Los Angeles have issued what they claim is a "groundbreaking" research report on "hate" in conservative talk radio.

Armed with their "case" against the medium, groups including the (partially taxpayer-funded) UCLA Chicano Studies Research Center and National Hispanic Media Coalition have begun a campaign to push Obama's FCC into holding sham hearings on conservative talk's future. So far, they've utilized lefty websites and newspapers for their campaign.

The battle coincides with other efforts by the Obamists, largely behind-the-scenes, to remove their Dear Leader's key media opposition without resorting to a controversial, high-profile Fairness Doctrine reinstatement (though some Democratic Party senators do favor that approach).

Funded in part by liberal donors including the Ford Foundation, the "Hate Speech on Commercial Talk Radio" study includes only conservative, populist and right-wing programs, which it improperly lumps into a single “conservative” category.

In what was chosen for monitoring, they’ve been strangely selective: major conservative talkers such as Rush Limbaugh, Sean Hannity and Mark Levin are not included. Instead, “researchers” opted to cover top-rated KFI/Los Angeles afternoon drive mainstays John & Ken, plus syndicated hosts Michael Savage and Lou Dobbs (these two dopes are conservatives?).

The UCLA group cited one episode of the John & Ken show, stating crime due to the sanctuary city policy in San Francisco, “And this all under the Gavin Newsom policy in San Francisco of letting underage illegal alien criminals loose.”

The lib researchers claimed this statement was based on untrue facts, even though Newsom abandoned the policy after murders committed by illegal aliens, and other city coddling of the criminal aliens exposed in news stories.

Maloney appropriately points out that these Obamabots at UCLA left out of their report the following instances of violent hate speech from Left-wing talk radio.

Liberal talk host Mike Malloy wished death upon Dana Perino and the Bush family, as well as the hanging of Matt Drudge, and the execution of any Republican and Democrat who voted with President Bush.

Randi Rhodes has twice called for the execution of President Bush and said Mitt Romney supporters would “go on a killing rampage” if John McCain was nominated.

Roseanne Barr called for riots during the DNC 2008 convention and went on a verbal rampage against African Americans who voted for Proposition 8 in California.

So get ready, because the liberal brownshirts are out to silence dissenters of “That One.” These back door methods will be the tactics they employ, because it’s too politically damaging for Congress to take it head on. This should be opposed not only because it is partisan and biased, but it will set a dangerous precedent, if successful.

And, if they can silence talk radio, how much longer will it be until the internet is monitored and conservative websites/blogs are verboten?
ENDS

ShareThis

 Tweet This Post

Tags: First amendment, free speech, Georg Soros, KFI, Obama, Soros