

Some Haiku for Magú

By Rubén Funkahuatl Guevara

First read on August 6, 2011, at the Los Angeles home of the Honorable Ricardo Muñoz

Hey Magú what's new?
Are you dancing with angels?
Real tight and real slow?

Playing some James Brown?
Please, Please, Please, In a Cold Sweat?
Try Me, Out of Sight?

We met at LACMA
Los 4 in Seventy Four
Chevy hood looked good

Perritos and cars
Cruising became an art form
Aztlán your palette

Your humor was art
Glowing, radiating love
Whimsy, light, passion

The spirit of art
A mystical mystery
Penetrating hearts

Magulandia
A place of visions and dreams
Cosmic locura

An artist shaman
Conjuring liminal grace
Magú por vida

"Les Demon des Anges"
Chicano art hits Europe
We partied till dawn

Dinner in Lyon
We smoked and drank to the gods
Ate like emperors

Collaboration
You wrapped me in a mural
I rolled out a god

Funkahuatl sang
Leading the crowd to Aztlán
Dancing with tears, joy

So, what's new Magú?
Getting ready to join you
Just a few more years

Gotta live real, real
Live life as a work of art
Breathe the art of life

Your art is spirit
Chicano Buddhist brother
Thank you for painting

Thank you for living
Thank you for being Magú
Now, get to work Homes
