

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	vii
May Hong HaDuong

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
-----------------------	----

INTRODUCTION

Space Overture and Chorizo Coda: An Introduction against the Margins Chon Noriega	1
--	---

PART I: OUTER SPACE/OUT OF SPACE

Los Angeles Sci-Fi Noir: The Bradbury Building and Its (Hidden) Latinx Contexts Veronica Paredes	33
Men into Space and the Spaces of Postwar TV Sci-Fi Shawn VanCour	55
Space Is the Place : Black Cinema in Search of Speculative Fictions Ewa Drygalska	83
Surface, Subterrain, Sea: The Volumetric Imagination in Recent Singaporean Science Fiction Jasmine Nadua Trice	105

PART II: IMAGINING VIOLENT WORLDS

La jetée in Historical Time: Torture, Visuality, Displacement Matthew Croombs	137
Remembering the Disappeared: Science Fiction Film in Postdictatorship Argentina Everett Hamner	166
Zoom Out: Queer Apocalypse in The Second Coming Amy Villarejo	195

Shadows in the Valley: The In/visible Iconography and Toxic Legacy of Computation Steve F. Anderson	217
PART III: REMEMBERING THE FUTURE
Last Angel of History: Research, Writing, Performance Edward George	241
Black Futurist Imaginaries Shelleen Greene	271
“Jerusalem, We Have a Problem”: Larissa Sansour’s Sci-Fi Trilogy and the Impetus of Dystopic Imagination Gil Hochberg	295
PART IV: CROSSING BORDERS AND TIME
Octavia Butler’s Kindred : Adaptation, Appropriation, Dispossession Kathleen McHugh	321
Ofelia’s Kiss: Racing the Sticky Fingers of Time Frances Negrón-Muntaner	355
The Scar and the Node: Border Science Fiction and the Mise-en-scène of Globalized Labor Sarah Ann Wells	369
Queering Asian American Science Fiction Cinema: From The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu to Everything Everywhere All at Once Sean Metzger	395
BIBLIOGRAPHY	421
CONTRIBUTORS	444
ILLUSTRATION CREDITS	452
INDEX	453